

THE ADVOCATE.

PARTED.

Once more my hand will clasp your hand;
Your loving voice I shall hear once more,
But we shall never see the land.
The pleasant land we know of yore;
Never, on any summer day
Hear the low music of its streams,
Or wander down the leafy way
That lendeth to the land of dreams.

Still, borne upon the scented air,
The songs of birds rise clear and sweet,
As when I gathered roses there,
And heaped their glories at your feet;
And still the golden pathway lies
At eye across the western sea,
And lovers dream beneath those skies,
Which shine no more for you and me.

No more, ah, nevermore, and yet
They seem so near, those summer days,
To shine adown time's misty ways.
I sometimes dream that morning's light
Will bring them back to us once more,
And that 'tis but one long, dark night
Since we two parted by the shore.

We parted with soft words and low,
And "farewell till tomorrow" said;
From sea and sky and sunset's glow
A golden halo round you shed.
Then as you went I heard you sing,
"Haste thee, sweet, tomorrow!" Parting thus,
How could we dream that life would bring
Not any more there for us?

We parted, and the last farewell
His shadow on our life path cast;
And Time's relentless barriers fell
Between us and our happy past.
And now we meet when tears and fears
Have dulled the parting and the pain,
But never can the weary years
Bring back our golden dreams again.

Historical "Buffs."

Grave historical writers are occasionally guilty of what are called "Hibernisms." The following passage occurs in a popular history of France:

"It is extremely doubtful whether this prince, Merovingus, ever existed at all; but he had a son, Childeric, whose existence is well authenticated."

The following is also from a historical work:

"Like Sankson of old, who, armed only with the jawbone of an ass, put eleven hundred Philistines to the sword."—Youth's Companion.

Good Form in Carrying Parcels.

In London it is not considered "good form" for a gentleman to carry through the streets a parcel, however small or elegantly wrapped. He may carry a book, if it is not too large and is not wrapped up; for a book is a book, but a parcel may be a pound of cheese or a dozen red herring. The restriction is a foolish one, a form of class distinction that is inconsistent with the highest civilization, in which every man will be a gentleman if he is thoughtfully considerate of others, whether he is a laborer or rides in a carriage.—Youth's Companion.

One of Colonel Ingersoll's Stories.

They tell a story of Mrs. Jones, of Chicago, who visited Rome and while there was shown some of the great marble masterpieces of the world, among others the Apollo Belvidere. They pointed it out to her as being the most perfect form of man that had ever been conceived by the brain of an artist, and the old woman walked all around it, looked at it from every point of view, and she says:

"That's the Apollo Belvidere, is it?"

"Yes."

"Well, give me Jones."—Helena Independent.

How to Clean a Plaster Cast.

A correspondent of a leading scientific journal says that a bust or statue can be most thoroughly cleaned, provided it has not been painted, oiled or waxed, by inverting it and filling it with water free from iron. The water is then allowed to filter through the plaster. After the filtering has been kept up for a sufficient time and the outside surface occasionally washed with water and a soft brush, the plaster is allowed to dry. It is then found that all the dust has been wiped out of the pores of the cast, which is thus restored to its original whiteness.

The Squire—It's no use for you to deny your guilt, Johnson. The chickens were actually found in your coat tail pockets.

Br'er Johnsoning (stontly)—I kaint help dat, sah. Haint it poaty tough to hold a poo' niggah responsible fo' what's goin' on behind his back?—Texas Siftings.

A Slow but Sure Cure for Warts.

Castor oil, it is said, if regularly applied each day to a wart, will remove it without leaving a scar. The time it takes may try the patience of the user—from two to six weeks being required—but if faithfully used it will remove the most obstinate warts.—New York Journal.

Communities, like individuals, learn by experience, if intelligent and honest of purpose. When confronted with some exceptional problem of administration or of government, their anxious endeavors should be to remedy the evil, with a view to prevent a recurrence. They have failed in their duty toward themselves should they stop short of a radical reform.

Richmond, Va., is built over a stratum of what was once a mass of living forms. This deposit has been examined to the depth of more than 100 feet, and extends over an area of more than two miles in diameter. Every cubic inch of this deposit contains the skeletons of 10,000,000 of tiny forms.

"Boo-hoo-hoo!" cried the bride.

"What is it, dear?" asked the groom from the other end of the breakfast table.

"Y-y-you have bub-broken your pup-pup-promise," sobbed the bride. "You said nothing should ever come between us, and the bub-breakfast table is there now!"—Harper's Bazar.

A carpenter by the name of M. S. Powers, fell from the roof of a house in East Des Moines, Iowa, and sustained a painful and serious sprain of the wrist, which he cured with one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is worth $5 a bottle. I cost him 50 cents. For sale by T. G. Julian.

That Terrible Cough

In the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by T. G. Julian.

Is Life Worth Living?

Not if you go through the world a dyspeptic. Dr. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets are a positive cure for the worst forms of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. Guaranteed and sold by T. G. Julian, druggist.

Hon. W. V. Lucas, ex-State Auditor of Iowa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and have no hesitation in saying it is an excellent remedy. I believe all that is claimed for it. Persons afflicted by a cough or cold will find it a friend." There is no danger from whooping cough when this remedy is freely given. 50 cent bottles for sale by T. G. Julian.

A Child Killed.

Another child killed by the use of opiates given in the form of Soothing Syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphine. Sold by T. G. Julian, druggist.

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

125 Montana Mares,

AT THE—

Blue-Grass Stock Yards, Lexington, Ky.

(Carriters & Beard's.)

—ON—

Friday, July 17th, 1891.

On above date we will sell at auction

125 head of carefully selected

Montana mares; all sound and ranging in age from three to six years and fifteen and sixteen hands high. We guarantee nothing finer or better bred

can be obtained in the Northwest.

These mares are especially adapted for

RAISING FIRST-CLASS MULES. They have breeding and action to be useful for livery and road purposes, and have

size and weight to make good farm stock. We are anxious to introduce these mares in Kentucky, believing a trial will lead to an extensive trade, and will close out every animal in this shipment to the highest bidder, regardless of prices. This stock can be seen for several days before the sale at the Blue Grass Stock Yards,

Lexington, Ky. Everybody is advised to look them over.

SALE POSITIVE, RAIN OR SHINE. For

LUBY.

Chestnut stallion; 16 hands; Four-year-old record 2:20.

Sired by POST BOY, 2:23.

First dam by Kentucky Prince, sire of Guy, 2:10; Spofford 2:10; Company 2:10; Fred Polger 2:20; Cypress 2:21; Bayamo Prince 2:21; Sweetstables 2:21; Kennedy 2:21; hardy 2:23; Comper 2:24; and six others in the 2:30 list; also sire of dams of LUBY 2:20, Edgar Wilkes 2:20, and several others in the 2:30 class. Second dam Thoroughbred.

Post Boy, one of the greatest race-horses of his day and the sire of LUBY, was by Magic and out of the great brood mare, Old Ned, the dam of Clemmie G., 2:15; Post Boy 2:20, Alice Stoner 2:20; Forest Wilkes 2:24; Mystery 2:25; and also the dam of Steinette, the dam of one in the 2:30 list. LUBY is a grand individual, a level-headed game race-horse, and is undoubtedly one of the fastest stallions in Kentucky. He obtained his record in a hotly contested race which he won, as the summary below will show:
